Dear Sir,

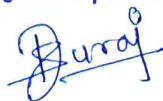

ImagineScript Solutions Pvt. Ltd. help to upgrade their technical skills required for research and industrial purposes and also develop software products as per customers' requirement. Our company is based in Maharashtra, India and it is dedicated to development and innovations. Our research in product development makes the product outlined as per client requirements. Our product development starts with the user's requirement and ends with an efficient and well-developed product. Therefore, the company is interested in long-lasting technical collaborations, with organizations and institutions for generating awareness and promoting technologies through R & D and/or Consultancy.

As per our MoU, we want to develop software for "Face mask and weapon detection using soft computing techniques" in collaboration with you. Please extend your Technical Expertise accordingly.

Waiting for your reply.
